Cover call: Wow, I was absolutely thrilled to be asked to do the cover! Getting this chance made me realize that this career has lots of potential for success, and I plan to take it seriously and excel in it.

Sexual comfort zone: This has definitely widened my zone! I have more confidence in public—and behind closed doors as well. I'm sure my guy friends will appreciate that.

On being a sex symbol: I'm still in awe that guys fantasize about me. I see the photos from a different perspective, so it's hard for me to see the sensuality in them. But if they do, I love it! It's a great compliment, and makes my job easier.

What's funny? My favorite book, The Divine Secrets of the Ya-Ya Sisterhood, makes me laugh out loud. Also, that special spot on my hip, when pressed just right, will set me off.

What's not? The song Nothing Compares to You by Sinéad O'Connor will make me cry every time. A great date: Is low-key. I love going for smoothies or playing miniature golf. Of course, the perfect date with my perfect man will end with—well, I'll leave that to your imagination.

A great lover: Can't take his hands off of me and likes to whisper passionate things in my ear. He can find—on his own—the spot on my body that makes me squirm. Bonus: I love to read in bed with my man. I also love a little roughhousing. Most unglamorous moment: Falling asleep in class—and snoring! Oops.

Cover call: When I was asked if I was available to come to Chicago to shoot the cover, I was super-excited! I'm relatively new to Playboy, so it was an incredible honor! Goofy set moments: After lunch we were all kind of dragging as the makeup touch-ups were being made. Amy Miller suggested that we put some music on to pump us back up. Well, it worked! A few of us started dancing, and all of us were very giggly for the second half of the shoot. We had such a blast! Sexual comfort zone: Playboy portrays the models in such a wonderful way—I love being part of that. And working with Special Editions has definitely given me more confidence in my body. Set mind-set: I like being made up and having my hair done. I'm usually aware of how sexy the pictures will be, and I believe that sexy is a state of mind—when you feel sexy, you are sexy! Favorite sports to watch: Basketball and football. To play? I'm not a sports kind of gal. Motto: Attitude is everything. Favorite movie: The Matrix. Favorite TV show: Sex and the City. Favorite Website: Mine, of course—www.sandeewestgate.com.

Katalina Verdin TOP2002

On making the top 20: I'm even more excited and proud this third time than I was the first. It's one thing to be a flash in the pan, but it's much more satisfying to retain your fan base for several years. It makes me feel great to have such a loyal following, and it's increased my confidence even more. I feel so lucky to have been chosen to model in the first place!

Getting started: I was really nervous during the very first shoot because there were 10 people standing around. The photographer told me to slide my top off. Then he told me to take my panties off—and that's when my knees locked! Now: Posing is liberating. At first you're aware of your body and how vulnerable you feel. But then you realize that the photographer and crew aren't thinking of nudity, they're thinking of art, and suddenly you and the photographer are partners in this creative process. One of the positive byproducts is that I'm not afraid to be myself anymore. Who are you? I'm a loving, bright, happy and outgoing person. I'm very exotic looking, but when you get to know me, I'm just a sweet, sensitive person. What would you like to be doing in 10 years? I'd like to be married and have a family. I'm really pretty low maintenance, and I'm happiest doing simple, basic things. Favorite perfume: Touch. Favorite sport to play: Baseball. To watch: Hockey.

Top 20 honors: I'm embarrassed to say that I totally forgot about the contest, so I was really shocked when I got chosen. But I was so excited. It came as a complete surprise—I had no clue—and I love you guys who voted for me! Playboy fallout: I have absolutely no shame about modeling for Playboy. I've never had a problem with nudity, and Playboy is always tasteful. Plus, it was a great opportunity, and I'm loving every minute of it. It's all about choice. No one put a gun to my head to make me do this. If someone feels ashamed afterward, she shouldn't have posed in the first place. The real skinny: I'm one of the lucky ones—I've always had a high metabolism and I love to play sports, so I've never had a problem with my weight. My dad is 6'3" and my mom is, like, 5-nothing—little bitty. I'm 5'7", so I hit the middle. I got my mom's skinniness and my dad's height. Sports nut: I'm a baseball girl. I love watching live baseball—any team! It doesn't matter who's playing, it's just being there—the beer, the hot dogs, the crowd. My little sisters laugh because when we go to a game, I'm screaming and cheering and whistling and having an all-out blast. Well, it cranks up the enthusiasm if we hit the kegger beforehand, of course.

Amy Miller TOP2002

Cover call: I was sitting in my computer room, really hoping I'd get chosen for this special honor. When the call came, I was so happy!

Group shooting experience: A group shot can be difficult—the girls need to feel happy, to feel that they're treated equally, and there are so many people on the set that it's a juggling act to get the mood right.

So, how did it go? We had a great time, and I think the shots show that. The outfits were perfect, we all got along and the crew was great.

All the girls are unique, but we made a perfect fit with each other. We completely bonded!

As a sex symbol: I think it's great to have men look at me and fantasize.

I love to make people happy—and horny!

How does a guy get a date with you? Be humble, funny, thoughtful and creative.

I like to be entertained because I'm usually the one who does the entertaining.

A great lover: Takes his time to kiss every part of my body, is patient in bed and wants to please me as much as I want to please him.

Experimentation is a plus.

Unglamorous model moment: During the day you'll always catch me in workout clothes, hair up and no makeup.

Girls should be natural during the day—and naughty at night!

A word to your fans: This is a goal that means a lot to me.

Making the top 20 validates all the hard work I've put in. I never dreamed I'd be so appreciated.

I love my fans!

Model perks: Some of my girlfriends and I went out to a club one night. There happened to be a long line into the bar, so my friend walked up to the door guy and told him that I was in Playboy. The guy looked me up and down, and to my astonishment we were let in! I was so embarrassed. But no cover and free drinks got me over that very fast! Sexual comfort zone: Posing has made me somewhat more comfortable being naked. I used to be a little old-fashioned about it in front of people, but being naked in front of a camera has definitely opened me up! Set mind-set: When I'm posing I think about all my old boyfriends and how jealous they'll be when they see me in a Playboy Special Edition! Birthday bash: My last birthday wasn't that great. I went camping for the weekend with friends and it rained the entire time. I didn't get a birthday cake either, but I've heard that your birthdays get worse the older you get, so I'm accepting it! What's funny? Jerry Seinfeld. I went to see him doing stand-up recently and I thought he was great. What's not? Seeing other people cry. Every time someone on TV cries, I do too! It's sort of embarrassing. How can a guy get a date with you? Be honest and don't try any stupid pickup lines. A great date: Starts with a nice dinner, maybe some dancing, then back to his place for a few cocktails to get to know each other better—hint, hint. A good lover: Shows respect, because if he does he'll be a better listener and much more understanding. A lot of sex helps too! Your most unglamorous moment: Probably when I eat. Sometimes I notice I've dropped crumbs or food on my shirt, but I suppose that comes with having big breasts!

Tishara Cousino TOP2002

On being a sex symbol: It makes me feel like more of a woman, and I'm flattered by it. I'm very lucky to be blessed with what people in today's society consider attractive.

Your strengths: Everyone always tells me that my strength is in my weakness—being overly girly and prissy. Men seem to have a desire to try to take care of me and help me.

What's in a name? My mom couldn't decide between Tara, Tina, Tricia or Sara, so she scrambled everything together.

Ideal man: I don't have a certain type. It's something about energy. If you put all the pictures of guys I've dated together, they're all physical opposites, but there's just something special about each of them.

Favorite male body part: Definitely his arms.

Housewear: At home I wear silk, satin or lace nighties. When I go out, it's a project that may take hours. If I put a lot of energy into the outfit, it gives me a good feeling.

Goals: I used to live my life by the goal system—reach one, set another. But I lost track of being happy, of hanging out with my friends and family. I don't have a need to meet goals anymore. I just want to be happy.

If I could: I'd walk around naked all day, without a care in the world.

Personal accomplishments: I'm living the life I always dreamed about—I own a beautiful home, I have a great family and I have an exciting career. Does it get any better than this?

ation: I used to sneak my dad's PLAYBOYS into my bedroom, lock the door and gaze for hours at the beautiful women. Now that I am one of those women it's a little surreal—and a nice turn-on!

Sexual comfort zone:

My sexual comfort zone has been constant since I turned 22. Playboy has been the icing on the cake. On being a sex symbol: I love the idea of men fantasizing about me. I can't think of anything more flattering. What's funny? What don't I laugh at? Life has to be taken with a sense of humor. What's not? Seeing any living thing in pain. What would you wear to the Mansion? Something sexy, sophisticated and sassy! How does a guy get a date with you? He has to make me laugh. I also need to know that he's the kind of man who's willing to learn with me on a constant basis. A romantic evening: Starts with me wearing a sexy gown giving my man a full-body massage by candlelight.

Hobbies: Cooking, cooking and more cooking. Cajun food is my specialty, and I've traveled to New Orleans many times to experience the cuisine. I love to have dinner parties with all my friends and family and let them get involved with creating the edible art. On making the top 20:

It's exciting to know that I can dance with the photographer and the surroundings well enough to earn this honor. Thanks so much!

Jessica Turner TOP2002

Sexual comfort zone: Posing has definitely helped me feel more comfortable with my sexuality—especially when my boyfriend pretends he's a photographer and asks me to strip for him. The only problem is that I keep asking for a paycheck afterward! What do you think about during a shoot? French fries! How did you celebrate your last birthday? Let's just say I don't remember that much about it. I think my friends were there. What would you wear to the Laundromat? My most comfortable hospital pants and a tank top. To the Mansion? It would depend on the occasion, but from what I hear, not much. How does a guy get a date with you? Ask nicely. A great date is: A nice dinner and lots of laughs. Describe an unglamorous model moment: Waking up smelling of cigarettes and beer, eyes swollen, mascara smeared down your face and a touch of drool on your mouth. Not that I would know! What's funny? The truth. It's amazing how someone can say something about a certain person or situation and the mere fact that it's true makes it hysterical. Comedians do this the best. What's not? Losing someone you love. Final words: Professionally, being voted into the top 20 gets your face out there, and hopefully brings in more work. On a personal level, it makes you feel good that people appreciate you and your work. Thanks to everyone who took the trouble to vote for me. You're the best!

Sexual comfort zone:

*I'm sure becoming a Playboy model and Playmate loosened my inhibitions in some ways, but I've always been an open-minded person and aware of my sexuality. I'm not afraid of the naked body, because I was raised with my mom and sisters and never had a man around. Set mind-set: I'll have a glass of wine, put on a good CD and then just close my eyes and think like a goddess! Ideal man:

A partner in crime—someone who's easygoing, has a great personality and doesn't have a jealous bone in his body! Someone who's like my best friend—very open and honest. Favorite male body part: The hands. I can tell by a man's hands whether I'd date him or not.

What makes you laugh? I always laugh at Grumpy Old Men. I like dry humor. Best in Show was really funny, too.

Down the road: In five years I want to be selling some big properties, modeling a lot on the side and well on my way to opening a restaurant.

Final words: I feel a little like a baseball all-star saying this, but there's something especially gratifying about being voted this honor by fans instead of the coaches. They're the people who we're doing it for, so it's great that they appreciate our work.

Sexual comfort zone:

I've always been a bit of a naturalist. I love being naked wherever I can get away with it. So posing for Playboy has been a dream come true! On being a sex symbol: I think being fantasized about is really sexy. I love to think of guys getting turned on by looking at my pictures. On set mind-set: I absolutely love to eat, and I'm always really well fed on Playboy shoots, so I usually spend the day imagining what tasty treats we'll order for lunch and dinner.

What would you wear to the Laundromat? A T-shirt and shorts. To the Mansion? Nothing but body paint in strategic locations. How does a guy get a date with you? Be funny, be sincere, make me laugh and be a good conversationalist. Ideal date: I love going out to great restaurants on double dates with friends. That way if my date is a dud, I still have a good meal and have fun hanging with my friends.

What's new? I'm the playboy.com Party Girl, and got to host Hef's 75th birthday party and the Midsummer Night's Dream party. I interviewed celebrities like Dan Aykroyd, Rod Stewart, Fred Durst and, of course, Hef himself. I also had parts in several network and cable shows, and I play Caprice in the Elizabeth Hurley/Denis Leary film Double Whammy. Final words: I'm so thrilled that fans have put me in the top 20 again this year! Having this recognition can't hurt my modeling and acting careers or my Website—www.lauriewallace.com—so I'm really happy about it.

Heather Christensen TOP2002

Cover call: I had just moved into my new place when I got the call. I was sure they would choose other girls, since I had already gotten so much attention. I was probably more surprised to get this call than I was the first time Playboy ever called! I would finally get to work with the other girls and be part of the famous cover! Goofy moment on the set: When the crew would walk away to look at a Polaroid, we'd all start getting into mischief. Sandra did this little butt jiggle, I burped out loud and someone got on all fours—but I won't say who. We all forgot about the video camera hanging from the ceiling—and we were caught on tape! We'll have to bribe everyone at the Cyber Club not to use that stuff. Playboy pluses: The thing I enjoy most about modeling for Playboy is the traveling. And when you get to meet the other girls, you realize they're all just like you. You feel like you're part of the elite. MOY perks: Since I won Model of the Year I've had many opportunities—interviews by other magazines and modeling for some clothing companies. My life has turned in a direction I never thought possible. Personal accomplishments: Skateboarding in local contests, winning a science olympiad, singing solos in choir and helping our relay team get to the finals two years in a row. Hobbies: Beachcombing, surfing, writing and taking care of my pets—four turtles, four birds and a Burmese python. Special talents: My grandma and I share psychic abilities. Current wheels: A '68 Mustang coupe—old and rusty. Dream car: A '68 Mustang coupe—refinished. Favorite Website: www.heatherchristensen.com.

As a kid: I was very determined and driven. I spoke my mind, and still do. I was fearless, always wanting to push the envelope. At 12 I was the number one pony rider in the country for three years in a row, and at 17 I drove across the country, from Virginia to California, by myself. If I could: I'd drive a Ferrari 355 Spyder at 140 mph down the interstate.

Hobbies: Motorcycles, dirt bikes, canoeing, horseback riding, swimming in the ocean, playing on the beach and camping.

Ideal man: Confident, sincere, honest and a family man. Turn-ons: Speed and danger—anything that gives me an adrenaline rush and makes my hair stand on end. Turnoffs: Missing teeth, bad breath, people who talk about money and skin-tight jeans. On a first date I never: High-speed line dance or wear latex. But I always: Ride a mechanical bull and go swimming. Career goals: I have my own swimsuit company, and am working really hard to make it successful. But no matter what, if I end up in some aspect of the fashion industry, I'll be a happy camper.

Favorite perfume: Aqua Di Parma. Wheels: Anziano's 996 wide-body Porsche.

Motto: I'll try anything twice.

Fun doings: I've caught the Mansion bug. I spend a lot of time with Hef and his girls, and had a blast at the Midsummer Night's Dream party and the Halloween party. I was also with the gang at Hef's Friars' roast. We all get along so well, like sisters or best friends, and I've never had so much fun in my life!

Elisa Bridges TOP2002

On making the top 20: I'm very flattered and very surprised. It's always a shock to me when so many fans take the time to vote for me, and this time—the fifth, I think—is especially gratifying because so many beautiful new models have made the scene, yet I'm still there! Recognizability: I don't get recognized very often. Hey, I'm in LA, and there are celebrities on every corner! Anyway, during the day I'm pretty low-key. I go out without makeup and in casual clothes and look like a teenager. No one pays any attention to me. As a kid: I never felt lonely, because I always had my family around. I was very happy and full of life. I played hard with the boys, but I was always a little lady. High school memories: I didn't really like high school much. Music was my scene. I was into rock 'n' roll—especially heavy metal—and I was always going to clubs. Most of my friends were in bands. Personal goal: I want a boat one day. I'd keep it in the Keys, where all you have to do is jump into the water to be able to swim with wild dolphins. I'd love to do that! Embarrassing model moment: I was shooting in the Keys and was naked on a boat in the marina. Some guys in the area spotted us—so I had circles of boats going around me! Ideal man: It isn't about looks. There has to be something there that attracts me to him, whether it's his personality or his smile. And he has to be good to me and very considerate—but also a little wild. All in the family: My great grandmother was a Spanish countess. I was named after her. Hobbies: Painting and skydiving.

Joy Behrman TOP2002

Cover call: When I got the message that I was going to be on this cover—for the third consecutive year—I was so excited that I ran around the house yelling and screaming like a maniac! I love what I do with Playboy, and I hope it keeps going for a few more years, until I settle down and start a family. I've been seeing the same person for four years, and there's talk of marriage.

On being in the top 20: Being given this honor three times is really exciting and unexpected. I guess it makes me a hot commodity! It gives me some form of hierarchy—at least in my own mind. And also with ex-girlfriends! Sexual comfort zone: I'm not sure posing has made me any more or less sexually comfortable, but it sure has made me more flexible—staying in those poses and all!

Model recognition: I was walking out of a South Beach steakhouse, and this guy was walking in with his girlfriend. He fell down the stairs and yelled, "Oh my God, it's Joy Behrman." I was so embarrassed! His girlfriend was screaming and yelling at him. That was quite a scene!

How could a guy get a date with you? Just by being himself, and hopefully that would match what I am. I need some sort of energy, chemistry and metaphysical dynamic. Recipe for a great date: Attraction, class, intelligence—a man who is willing to do what it takes to keep me happy.

Traits of a great lover: His soul, his mind, his heart, his love, his touch and his patience. Final words: This has been a great experience, and being voted into the top 20 again is an unbelievable honor.

Thanks, guys. I love you all.

As a sex symbol: I love it! If guys get excited by looking at my photos, it's a total turn-on for me. And let's face it, if they didn't get excited, I've chosen the wrong line of work. Last birthday bash: A bunch of my friends took me to the casinos. We drank too much, ate too much and gambled too much. But it was great! What would you wear to the Laundromat? An old T-shirt, a pair of sweat shorts and sneakers. To the Mansion? Just my smile. How could a guy get a date with you? If he can make me laugh all night, he's in. I like guys who don't take themselves, their jobs or their toys too seriously—down-to-earth guys who are smart and funny. A perfect date: Starts in the afternoon with something outside—the beach or some sporting event—then going to a nice dinner. It would have to be somewhere quiet so we could talk, and then after dinner and a few drinks we'd go to a club to dance and party. A great lover: Is willing to learn what pleases me. Unglamorous model moment: Picture me in my living room wearing a sports bra and shorts, all hot and sweaty, doing Tae Bo while my dogs try to attack me because they have no idea what I'm doing.

On making the top 20:

What an amazing surprise! It's an honor just to work for Special Editions, so to be voted into the top 20 by the readers is like icing on the cake. I'm just going to bask in the glory for a while and savor it.

Career goals: I have a degree in clinical psychology and someday will open a practice in sex and relationship psychotherapy. But I have such a wide range of career choices right now that I might as well take advantage of and enjoy them while I'm still young.

Discovery: One night Cynthia Kaye, Special Editions producer, pulled me out of a bathroom at a South Beach nightclub and said she wanted me to shoot with her. I was hesitant at first, but she can be very persuasive. The next thing I knew, I was half-naked and taking photos!

Hobbies: Hiking, white-water rafting, rock climbing, horseback riding, golf and boating.

You're in love when: It's beyond looks, money and butterflies—when I can't imagine sleeping without him curled around me, snoring and all!

Motto: No matter how perfect he seems, someone else is tired of him.

Favorite sport to play: Twister.

To watch: Auto racing. Most of the other sports are really just games.

Favorite recipe: A takeout menu. Pets: I have 10 cats, two dogs, two pigs, two bunny rabbits, one goat and four horses. My pigs dance, sit and beg. They are so cute!

On a roll: I'm very grateful and surprised to be chosen as one of the top 20 models for the seventh time! All of my fans have shown me that we have a very special relationship. Their loyalty is something I will treasure for many years to come.

On being a fantasy figure: I love picturing the effect my poses have on guys. What are you thinking? I really try to use my head to see how creative I can be with whatever's around me at that particular time.

Last birthday bash: My man took me to Universal Studios. We were planning to go salsa dancing afterward, but we got too tired from our day. We decided to go home and snuggle the rest of the night instead. It worked out just fine.

What would you wear to the Laundromat? Overalls, a T-shirt and flip-flops. I never wear makeup unless I'm shooting, and I don't really like jewelry. I'm very much an ordinary person.

How can a guy get a date with you? Well, he can't anymore because I'm very much taken. But if I weren't, the best way would be to be my friend first, then wait to see how things went. I would never date someone for their looks, their money or material possessions. There has to be some chemistry there.

Recipe for a great date: I'm wearing a sexy dress so I'm looking and feeling great, there's a good vibe with great conversation and we're on the same page about our likes and dislikes. We have a nice, romantic dinner with a couple of drinks and the mood is magical.

A great lover: Has wonderful hands, kissable lips, comes up with creative positions and can go on and on and on!

Sydney Moon TOP2002

Sexual comfort zone: I was wild before I started posing for Playboy, and I'm even wilder now! When Playboy flew me to Jamaica to shoot the Hedonism video I had so much fun with some of the other models that I got a reputation among the staff. When they wanted to do a playboy.com feature about bisexuality, guess who they thought of first? Set mind-set: I consider what poses would look best ahead of time. I don't go there to move like a robot—I try to put some creative energy into it. Because I don't normally wear makeup, I still feel kind of funny all done up. I have to try not to make funny faces. And I still get nervous sometimes—even after several years of modeling.

What's funny? Good comedy—Ben Stiller, John Stewart, Dennis Miller. Comedy is a nice way to escape from the harsh realities of the world, and I sometimes take things way too seriously. What's not? The birth of a child makes me cry. Also, witnessing true love between people, or realizing the depth of human courage. How does a guy get a date with you?

Make sure I see you regularly—without stalking me, of course. Then wait for me to make the first move. I like to be the aggressor. Don't give me any kind of line. And don't expect me to give it up for a long time. I want to make sure that's not all a guy's interested in. Unless, of course, that's all I'm interested in!

A great lover is: Someone with patience, consideration and stamina—and who's genetically gifted.

Final words: I'm so glad to be included for the second year in a row—especially when there are so many beautiful girls to choose from. Thanks to all of you who voted for me. I hope to continue modeling for Playboy for a long time, as well as bring new material to my own Web-site, www.sydneymoon.com.

Growing up: I never really felt comfortable in conservative Alabama, where I was raised. I have no inhibitions, which offends "dignified" types. With me, what you see is what you get. Mother knows worst: How's this for a third-grade nightmare—my mom told me to tell my secret crush how I felt about him. He laughed at me—and I almost died! What does it take to win your heart? Lots of patience. And Starbucks in bed. A perfect evening: Going to the batting cages and hitting balls. To me, that's just awesome. Afterward, grab some Chinese, then watch TV. Career path: I have two films out—The Guest, where I play a zany, athletic rock climber who deals with neighborhood drama, and Human Nature with Tim Robbins and Patricia Arquette. In the spotlight: When I walk into a restaurant and fans and photographers walk up to me, I always acknowledge them. It's neat when people recognize me, and I like it. It's not exactly on the same level as, say, Jennifer Aniston—that might get annoying—but for me, it's just grooving. Do guys hand you lines? Sometimes, and I just hate that. If they're cheesy about it, I just blow them off. I very rarely take anybody seriously in a bar or club type of setting. I would much rather meet someone at Whole Foods or Barnes and Noble. Final word: It feels great knowing the work you do is appreciated, and even greater that so many guys took the time to express their appreciation. Thanks so much!
